Write the register transfer language description of the instruction set for the LC-3 Computer. This description should include the fetch state for the machine, and then the execute states for each instruction listed on the inside of the back cover of the textbook. At this point in time, you can omit the JSR, JSRR, RET, RTI and TRAP instructions - we will add these a little later.

Attach your description to this assignment page.